

Review your insurance programme

When did you last review your insurance programme? It might seem like a huge undertaking, but not only could an audit benefit your business financially, it may also save you considerable time and effort in the long run.

Three reasons to review your insurance programme today:

Its 100% confidential

Avoid renewal time chaos

Handled by Professionals

With a confidential review you could instruct Gallagher to conduct a strategic audit of your risks, identify potential gaps in your existing insurance cover and benchmark the cost of your current insurance programme.

“We were introduced to Gallagher via our bank relationship and agreed to an initial meeting to discuss our insurances. Gallagher advised that rather than quote against our current broker it would be more productive to carry out a Gallagher CORE360® confidential audit well before the renewal process had begun to review our current policies, claims history/management, risk management, and our current broker’s renewal strategy. This remained fully confidential, meaning that if after the audit no issues were found it would not disrupt our relationship with our current broker.”

Joanna Doughty, Group Finance Director Acumen Logistics Group Ltd.
